A personality all their own

A locker's main purpose is to store books, coats, cans, odds and ends. The lockers of Mannford High have even played host to an occasional snake.

If you pay close attention you can tell something about a person by his locker.

Could you spot a cheerleader's locker? Sure you could. It would be neatly decorated with spirit ribbons, purple crepe paper, and her favorite player's number.

What about FFA? Really faithful members arrange pictures on the inside: show animals, awards, and souvenirs of greenhand initiation week.

Some people don't always use the lockers assigned to them. I recall a Pirate student who said, "My car is my locker. Maybe I'll move indoors when it's cold."

Some lockers are never used — their students don't seem to attend enough school to occupy one.

Big wheels.

If you happened to arrive at school late or were running an errand for your favorite teacher, you probably had to search and search for a parking space. This is the result of the increasing population of Mannford High students and teachers.

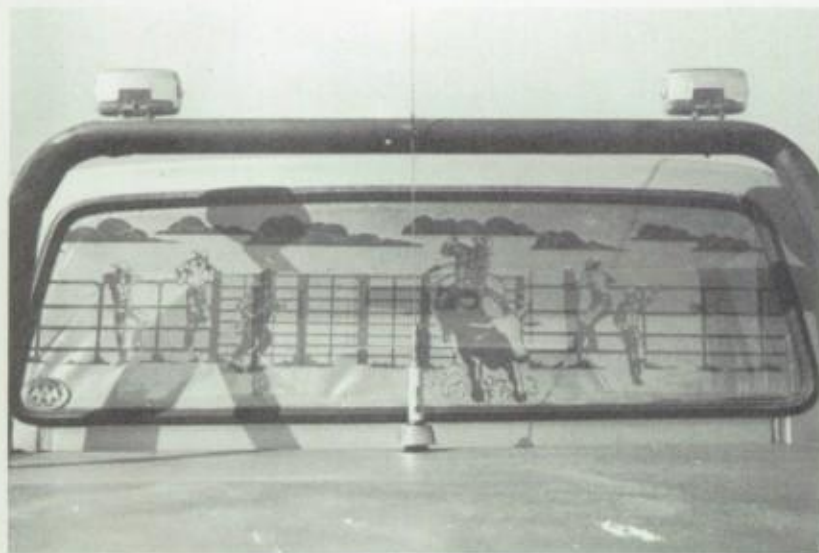

The campus held a variety of autos — shiny new cars, older models, and totally beat up ones. We had red, blue, yellow, white, and silver ones. Even a few with their own distinctive color. We had large cars, tiny cars, vans, and trucks.

Cars were important to Mannford students. If fortunate enough to have one, it not only provided transportation to and from school, it also provided a source of entertainment in our small community — even if it was only to cruise around town with friends. They also took us to Tulsa where almost anything could be found to help occupy time.

Cars weren't the answer to every problem but they sure helped make the days more interesting.

Rhythm and blues

Music is a big part of MHS students' lives. Everywhere you go you can hear music piped from somewhere. Whether it is the band class, select group, the radio, or even someone serenading in the hall, the rhythm reaches nearly everyone.

Mannford students prefer a variety of music. The most popular is rock. At noon someone always has a car stereo cranked up with Ted Nugent's "Cat Scratch Fever," Kansas's "The Point of Know Return," or even the soundtrack from "Grease."

Country music lovers are in hiding at MHS, but never-the-less we know they are out there somewhere.

Some survive and some die

What makes a splashing entrance, stays a short time, and then mysteriously disappears? Fads? Right!

Everything from the spaced-out moon boots to flashy disco clothes were seen around the MHS campus.

Some fads outlived others. Double pierced ears were around longer than platform tennis shoes. Probably the longest running fad in the country was feathered hair cuts which were seen on people of either sex and any age.

Some fads lived on and changed to fashion (males displayed their natural curls), but others sank into oblivion (decorative combs for hair and spiked heels). Someday, years from now, they will try a come back.

Monte Floyd and Jerry Lay displayed their curls.

New beginnings

Does a new beginning guarantee a better ending? Not necessarily, but seeing is believing after taking a look at the '78-'79 Student Council. They were on their toes starting new traditions and building goals.

The members felt they were elected to serve the students and initiate new ideas. Many of those new ideas had their beginnings at district workshops in October and November.

Student Council Week was a new beginning toward more student involvement. The week included hat day, purple pride day, western day, and dress-up day.

Murals were commissioned for the otherwise drab hallways, giving the art department a big challenge. Two lenses and an electronic flash were purchased for the newspaper and yearbook staffs.

Numerous dances were sponsored after the ball games.

Officers were: Robert Steward, president; Jeff Schaefer, vice-president; Tim Boone, secretary; Sarah Carroll, reporter. Ted Smith served as sponsor.

▲Changing the sign took all five.

►Student Council was proud of the graphic designs added to the halls.

Todd Knott and Stan Noble ensured the Student Council election was a valid one.

... Pride. It was the backbone of the band. The people, the spirit, the unity; we call it pride. No matter what was going on, practices, games or contests, it took a lot of work and a special kind of unity. You could even feel their pride, not just pride in themselves, but their pride backed up the whole school. The band boosters sponsored many money-making projects, which financed the three day trip to Tri-State. One project was the rock-a-thon, attended by many people.

The marching "band of pirates" earned an outstanding rating of #1. The stage band equaled that rating at contests including the Green Country Jazz Festival in Tahlequah. Both bands attended the Tri-State Music Festival in Enid, May 3-5. The busy year was concluded with the annual band banquet.

Getting ahead

Spectrum began rehearsals early last fall. They found that getting ahead meant staying ahead.

This outstanding stage band had made a big name for itself during the past few years and living up to it was a very rewarding experience. They worked hard and it was no surprise when they brought home fantastic ratings and solo honors.

Contests included the Green Country, Jazz Festival in Tahlequah, state contest at Edmond, and competitions in Dewey and Stillwater. By far the most exciting though, was the Tri-State Music Contest in Enid, where Spectrum gained the Outstanding Stage Band award for the Tri-State area.

The marching Band of Pirates also returned from Tri-State with a one rating, winning second place in parade marching, also.

The band banquet ended the year on a great note. It was held at the Lake Country Ballroom with entertainment supplied by Spectrum.

Kaleidoscope

What's in a name?

Kaleidoscope is defined as anything which is constantly changing — it is also the new name of the select group. They were a colorful group with great talent. Mary Elkins, director, was always a good influence.

Kaleidoscope has performed during the past year at many schools, including Yale, Oilton, Keystone, and Bristow. They also attended various choral festivals. The annual musical performed was "Lil' Abner," which ended the year on a good note.

Field trips were the key to excitement, challenge and fun for the members of the Science Club.

The first field trip was to Sun Oil Company in Tulsa for a tour of the refinery.

They also visited Oklahoma City's Lincoln Park Zoo and the Omniplex where they encountered a talking computer programmed to say "Beat Oologah".

Digging for salt crystals at the Great Salt Plains and touring the National Wildlife Refuge at Cherokee highlighted a busy year for the club.

All the world's a stage

Laugh and the world laughs with you, at least that's the idea. And the Thespians seem to convey that idea very well. They have made us laugh and maybe look at life a little differently.

Lolligrams, holligrams, and secret messages were the highlight of the last few dreary days before the holiday season, but their work didn't end there.

There were countless noon hour meetings and endless rehearsals, but the work they put in was always evident in the final productions.

They performed a one-act play called "The Cop and the Anthem" taking it to district contest. Many members ranked high in statewide speech contests. The talent show which they sponsored was a great success along with the Thespian Assembly.

As a group, the Thespians attended a few Theatre of Tulsa productions and bought tickets to "The Wiz".

Reporting the news

It's a difficult job that the Pride Staff has, but they've really lived up to their name — believe it, they do have pride. This outstanding staff of seniors has brought us all of the new news and the old news, from fads to freshmen and back again. Yet, all the times we were reading their newspaper, we seemed to forget all the rush work that went on behind the scenes. The deadlines were endless.

Tina Fulton, editor, and her staff kept busy with the new Senior Spotlight section along with all the daily news we supplied. Other new sections included Feedback, Viewpoint, and Jock Talk.

Service club of MHS

The Dominiques were the only service club at MHS. Only twelve dedicated students gained membership by contributing eight hours of out-of-school work.

Sponsored by Claude Jones, they were kept busy throughout the year helping the horticulture class redesign the greenhouse, planting trees in the orchard, and renovating the baseball field in Green Valley Park.

The Dominiques' main goal was to make the campus cleaner and more enjoyable for everyone.

"Toward New Horizons" is a fitting motto for FHA. It seems that there is always something new up their sleeves, and they're usually busy; parties, rallies, banquets, and many service activities.

The year started with initiation week and brought some really crazy activities out into the open. That week held everything from an egg roll to painting hands red and white. Mitch Moses, official FHA beau, enjoyed the company of the new members who followed him from class to class. Initiation week ended with the installation of the new members.

Spirit

That's what it takes to be a cheerleader, an endless amount of spirit. These cheerleaders were the ones with that spirit, dedication and pride; they got our hearts pumping and our enthusiasm going. There were tireless nights full of jumps and yells, losses and victories, but also much more.

The cheerleaders were busy selling spirit ribbons and school jackets. The money they raised was used to buy new uniforms for the girls.

Head cheerleaders Laney Wells and Reba Jobe were responsible for most of the behind-the-scenes work, such as pep assemblies, signs, and planning the homecomings. Along with sponsor Jamie Roberts, they all did a fine job throughout the year.

New t-shirts for the "pirate gang" were purchased at the beginning of the year.

Officers were Tim Boone, President; Sherrie Ponder, Vice President; and Sarah Carroll, Secretary-Treasurer.

One of the year's highlights came during football homecoming week when the "guardian angels" watched over our valuable team, showering them with secret gifts and surprises.

Meetings were few, but their support was evident at the many pep assemblies and games.

Planning for America's future

The future? We can never know what it holds, but it belongs to us, all of us. The things we are today build us up for what we will be tomorrow. Ideas, goals, and dreams . . . our dreams are stepping stones for what lies ahead.

This reflects the motto of the Future Farmers: Learning to do, doing to earn, earning to live, and living to serve.

“Esta camisa es escrito en Español”

Only the Spanish club could design club T-shirts which were written in Spanish and when translated read, “This shirt is written in Spanish.”

Mrs. Palmer, club sponsor, took a large group of members into Townsend Top Shop to pick out shirt, color, and letter design. Each member then had the option to personalize his shirt on the back.

Members were kept busy as they prepared for the school carnival. Approximately $200 was profited from their scrumptious tacos and burritos. They showed Mannford exactly what it takes to make fine Mexican cuisine.

Every member will have their own memories of the annual trip to Casa Bonita, the performance of the Morca Ballet (flamenco dancers), and of course the breaking of a pinata at the Christmas party.

It really took a special person to face the trials of yearbook class. Ideas, layouts, designs, changes . . . new ideas, new layouts, new designs, new changes . . . so you didn't get it right the first time; masterpieces aren't completed in the first draft. People, events, good times, and even the boring ones, but most of all it's full of some very special memories.

Editor Leticha Marshall helped to combine all the ideas and unify the entire project along with Marilyn Wall, sponsor.

What do seniors think about in their final year of high school? They reflect on years gone by and past experiences shared . . . the endless hours spent stuffing white charmin in chicken wire on homecoming floats; the illegal snowball fights when hands were cold and paddles were hot; the class yell in the auditorium; the mad stampede getting to lockers before being trampled.

. . . Each football game, with the thrill of victory over archrival Bristow and the agony of defeat to Cleveland; walking door to door selling junior candy bars and magazines; working the concession stand (do you remember the popcorn fights, the mad rush at half-time, the exploding pop canisters, and making change for a twenty?); picking up a tux or buying a new dress for the prom.

The seniors of '79 are the last class of the frustrating 70's. The war in Vietnam, Watergate, runaway inflation, gas rationing, and the sexual revolution are events which have shaped their lives. But along with these, seniors can boast of seeing men walk on the moon, communicating with each other across thousands of miles using a thread of glass and a beam of light. They've seen the world's first test-tube baby, and ushered in such fads as computerized toys, Saturday Night Fever, and nostalgia of the 50's. Theirs has been a technological age full of new inventions, new horizons, and new imaginings.

Yes, seniors reflect, they reminisce, they may even shed a tear or two. They have come to realize that each day is a learning experience and each moment is cherished.

As seniors look to their future lives, drawing on their newly acquired skills to complete each milestone; each one hopes for the joy of living, for all the lives they have encountered in the past and the ones they will touch in the future. As the year nears an end, most seniors hesitate to leave the security of high school, but they realize that a new horizon greets them . . . a world as yet unknown and obscured, awaits their coming.

"THE TIMES OF YOUR LIFE"

Words by:
Bill Lane

Music by:
Roger Nichols

Good morning yesterday
You wake up, and time has slipped away
And suddenly it's hard to find,
The memories you left behind
Remember, do you remember?

The laughter and the tears
The shadows of misty yesteryears.
The good times and the bad you've seen
And all the others in between
Remember, do you remember
THE TIMES OF YOUR LIFE?

Reach back for the joy and the sorrow,
Put them away in your mind,
For memories are times that you borrow
To spend when you get to tomorrow.

Here comes the setting sun
The seasons, are passing one by one
So gather moments while you may,
Collect the dreams you dream today
Remember, will you remember
THE TIMES OF YOUR LIFE?

Juniors discover new experiences

▲ Lana Osburn and Kim Martin enjoy the lunch hour.

David Shuck proves he has good taste.

Fund-raising, class rings, and homecoming were uppermost in the minds of the juniors.

The Class of '80 worked hard selling candy (what junior could ever forget World's Finest Chocolate?) and magazine subscriptions.

Selling concessions was the main fund-raising project of the year. Thanks to the juniors, game-goers never went thirsty. Basketball season seemed an endless round of filling Coke cups and bagging popcorn.

Class rings were another highlight. For months juniors could be found waving their right hands during class.

Homecoming was something special for the juniors when they won third place with their float "Pirates We S-a-a-a-lute." Remember Kim Hausner dressed up as a horse? And Lana Osborn made such a cute scare crow.

Sophomores at last! Finally they're rid of those dumb freshman jokes upperclassmen are so fond of circulating.

Now that they are sophomores life seems to have sped up somewhat — especially when taking corners at 40 mph in the driver's ed car!

This year's sophomores stand out in a crowd. Some insist on using their right turn signal to indicate a left turn. And it came as no surprise when the Best Dressed and Best Western Dresse Awards went to sophomores during STUCO week.

While it is exciting to be a sophomore there are pitfalls. Traditionally sophomores are forced to endure several humiliating initiations. Just ask any former FFA green hand. And in several hum football sophomore initiation could best be described as "Balms Away".

Adversity, responsibility, and ▲ Raymond Douglas, Mike Hamilton, Dwayne Rice, and Steve Owens appreciate FFA at it's finest.

Then there was the day the FHA initiates walked around carrying buckets and mops. Carol Burnett, eat your heart out.

In the face of all this adversity sophomores have developed a strong sense of pride. A good example was their Homecoming float. That float was a sophomore original from beginning to end. It was a beautiful sight with its pages turning in the wind (because the fishing wire broke); It was a proud tribute to the Pirates' victories.

The sophomore class realized its responsibility to the future. They even took the trouble to go all the way to Vo-Tech to learn how to turn pegs over while moving them from one side of the board to the other.

Put pride with the natural sparkle which permeates the class of '81 and the results are dynamite. "We are great; we have fun. Super Senior '81."

Freshmen have a view all their own

What was high school like seen through the eyes of a freshman? At first it was scary but soon they got used to the rough and tough life of high school. Being the youngest wasn't always a disadvantage because it was much more fun than being the oldest in the middle school.

Since most of the freshmen teachers were new, being at M.H.S. was a first for freshmen and their teachers. The new teachers were rated very highly by the ninth graders. "It was fun having new teachers 'cause they're all neat!"

This was the year of the split lunch hour which brought the unprepared freshmen just one more change. Even though some preferred the first lunch hour, the rest thought second lunch hour had its pros and cons. The empty machines in the student lounge were aggravating but they enjoyed the short order lines and time to play foosball at the Pirate's Chest before trekking back to school.

Freshman pride was very evident. While everyone else was yelling '79, '80, and '81, the unfamiliar cries of "Senior '82" could be heard. They had pride in their mighty football team and it was obvious by the many pep club shirts worn on game days. Freshmen didn't enjoy the many jokes and constant ridicule of all the upperclassmen but it was a never-changing tradition. As sophomores next year, they will join in and remind the freshmen who's youngest.

1978 Football-

The Pirates surprised everyone this year with their six and four record as they moved up to class 2A under new head coach Roger Floyd and assistants Ed McCann and John Greenfield.

Predicted to win only two games and to be seven out of eight teams in district, the Pirates ended the season with a three and four record.

The Pirates beat the Berryhill Chiefs 28 to 6 in the first game of the season.

"BRISTOW HAS THE ONLY REAL PIRATES! BEAT MANNFORD!" Who can forget this postcard message which fired up everyone to beat the fifth-ranked Bristow Pirates? When MHS, the REAL PIRATES, came out on top 21 to 13, Coach Floyd returned the card to Bristow coach and was carried off the field. After this well-coached and well-played game, Floyd was named TULSA WORLD Coach of the Week.

The Pirates finished the regular season with their third straight, a 30 to 14 victory over the Okemah Panthers.

District play opened with a 6 to 14 loss against Pawhuska and the Pirates' first loss of the season.

The Pirates scored a touchdown in overtime play to defeat the Oologah Mustangs 20 to 14 for their fourth straight homecoming victory.

Number one ranked Collinsville made their record 6 and 0 as they downed the Pirates 6 to 34.

The Pirates' second team played most of the last half as Cascia Hall was defeated 33 to 22 to make the Pirates' record 5 and 2.

Knowing they couldn't lose another game and still make the playoffs, the Pirates came back in the fourth quarter to defeat Dewey 12 to 7. Playoff hopes were ended with the 8 to 15 loss to Cleveland the following week.

The Pirates missed a game-winning two-point conversion in overtime play as Skiatook won 22 to 23 in the last game of the year.

Eight seniors were named to all district: Steve Flippo, Monte Floyd, Sid Hilton, Terry Hix, Tim McBroom, Mac McIntire, Abe Sherwood, and Barry Stearns.

Seniors: Freddie Dutton, Steve Flippo, Monte Floyd, Sid Hilton, Terry Hix, Tim McBroom, Mac McIntire, Johnnie Owens, Robbie Patrick, Abe Sherwood, Barry Stearns, Tracy Watson, and managers Kelley Green and Kevin Klintworth.

Record-setting track

What happens when you try to follow an MHS trackster? You get left in the dust. At least that's what happened to the competition as they came face to face with this year's boys' track team.

They did exceptionally well in the 2A division at both Regionals (held at Jay) and State competition at Moore.

Robbie Patrick proved to be super as he won the Regional championship in both the one-mile and two-mile runs. He also placed fourth in the two-mile at State competition.

Others who performed well included Phillip Graham who set a new school record in the 440 yard dash with a time of 53.3 seconds. Gary Summerlin became the new record holder in the 800 yard dash with a time of 2 minutes, 6 seconds.

Abe Sherwood set a record in the 330 intermediate hurdles in 42.3 seconds and placed fifth in that event at State competition.

Jamie Caudle leaped to a new high jump record of 6'0", and Ray Blake vaulted his way to an unprecedented 10'6".

Dale Haskins landed fifth place at Regionals in the shot put, while Barry Stearns finished eighth in the 220 yard dash at the State meet.

▲Robbie Patrick was the Regional champion in the one- and two-mile runs.

▼Becky Raesz exemplifies the determination, stamina and fortitude necessary to be a good hurdler.

QTR

The girls' track team razzle-dazzled the competition and left them far behind.

Kelly Pherson proved she was an excellent athlete by placing first in the one-mile run at the Sand Springs Invitational Meet. Libby Acree placed fifth in the 880 yard run. Kelly also won third in the mile and the 880 at the Jay Invitational.

Deanne Whiles took fifth in the high jump at the Sand Springs Invitational and fourth in that event at Jay.

Teresa Williams won fifth in the mile at Sand Springs, fourth at Jay, and fifth at Regionals.

Vicki Ponder placed fifth in the 440 yard dash at Sand Springs.

1978-79 Girls-

The Lady Pirates finished a very successful season with a 23-4 record.

After winning the District Tournament at Cleveland, the girls went on to the Regionals. They were downed in the first game by 4th ranked Stillwell. They went into the next game knowing if they lost their season would be over. They downed Inola - and went on to the final game of the tournament. The Lady Pirates played Cleveland-a team they had beaten three times. It was a close game down to the last second, but the season ended as Cleveland won by one point.

The girls placed second in the Berryhill and Webster Tournaments. The final game of the Webster Tournament was with class 4A, number one ranked Sapulpa. The game went into double overtime and the Lady Pirates were downed by one.

Kelly Pehrson, Senior, Brenda Reed, junior, Bonnie Bunch, junior, and Carol Greenfield, junior, were named to the Cimarron All Conference Team. Kelly and Brenda were named offensive and defensive player of the year.

Kelly was also chosen to the All-Metro Team. Bonnie Bunch, Brenda Reed, and Jamie Norwood were chosen for honorable mention.

'78-'79 District

The Pirates had a very successful 15 and 11 record under new head coach John Phillips and assistant coach Wes Brown.

Returning only five players from last year's 21 and 5 team, the Pirates had their work cut out for them.

Finishing their regular season with a 12 and 9 record, they went on to District. They downed Kellyville in the first game but were then downed by high-ranked Cleveland.

As District runners-up they went on to the Regionals to beat Fort Gibson 57 to 48 in the first game. In the second game they downed Haskell 59 to 48 to advance to the final game of Regionals. All of their hopes ended when they were defeated 54 to 44 by Wagoner.

Barry Stearns, senior, Mac McIntire, senior, and James Clawson, sophomore, were named to the Cimarron All-Conference Team.

Stearns also made honorable mention for the All-Metro Team.

Seniors were Barry Stearns, Mac McIntire, Steve Flippo, and William Ardrey.

12-1 Season for Freshman Girls

The freshmen girls, coached by Dean Pierce, had an outstanding basketball season. Enthusiasm, spirit, and optimism made them a winning team.

Competition for the freshmen girls was tough but they were determined to play a good clean game and win.

Freshman team has determination

Hard work, determination and long hours of practice prepared the freshman Pirates in both body and soul. "They improved over the course of the season and showed their improvement," said Coach John Phillips.

Despite their determination, the freshman boys finished the season with a 2-9 record.

Hard work for the freshman team

"I feel that if they work as they have in the past, they will be winners everytime," said Coach Wes Brown.

Playing football requires concentration, the ability to take losses, and sportsmanship.

This was their first year to play junior varsity football, a big step into high school life.

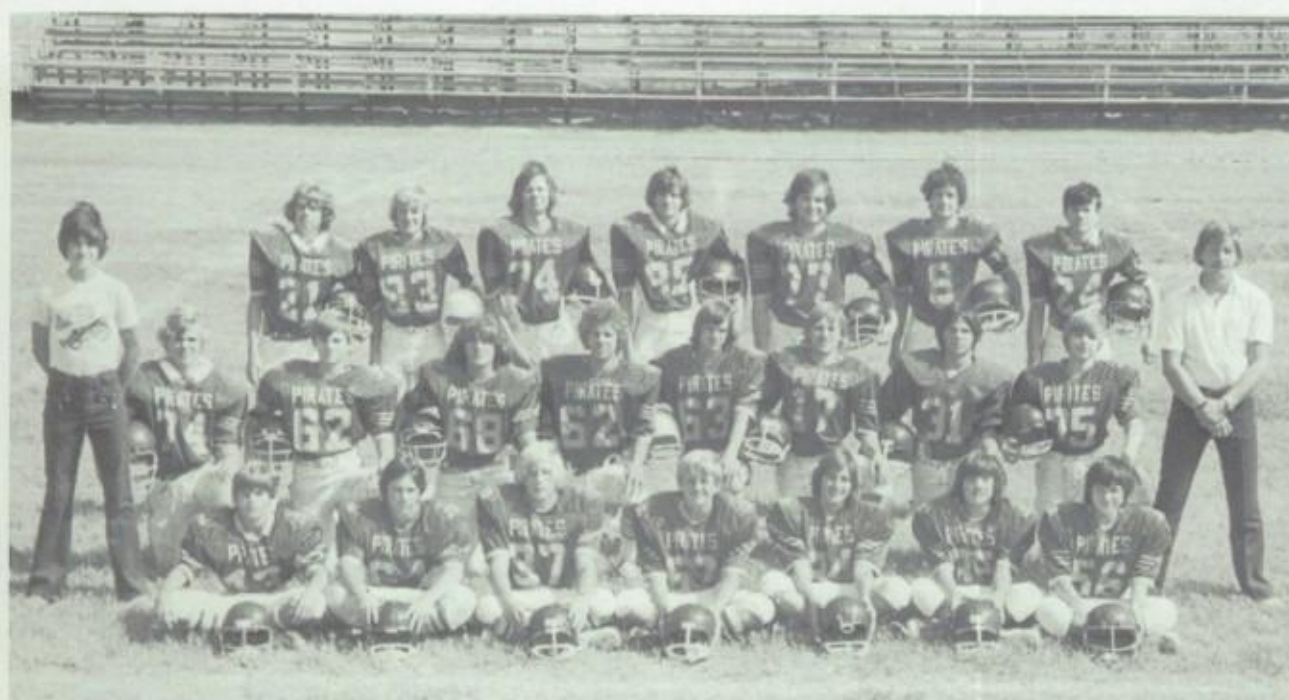

"Even though our record doesn't show it, we went into every game playing our hardest. We were winners everytime we got out on the field," said Randy Eslick, quarterback.

"We've made it!"

"Spirit, pride, ability. We're the best that you can see!" The four freshmen cheerleaders were the best.

The girls' hard work started last summer, raising money to attend camp at Tulsa University. They were awarded a spirit stick at camp.

Their enthusiasm continued throughout the year at pep assemblies, pep club meetings and each ballgame.

Just taking one step at a time was what the eighth graders were doing. Each day was different for them whether in classroom, the halls, or at lunch. They were excited about their next year of high school, but dreading to leave the Middle School and its memories. Yes, the eighth graders took one step at a time, slowly and surely.

"The seventh graders were great this year," said MMS teachers. "They worked together and had lots of pep and energy. Though sometimes mischievous, they were a super bunch of students."

They knew the routine of Middle School and joined in all the activities and organizations. The seventh grade did more than their share to develop MMS pride and spirit.

As the 8:30 bell rang on the first day back from summer vacation, eager 6th graders exchanged anxious looks.

After getting used to changing classes, half of their fear was over. The other half was being around older students.

They had many unforgettable experiences . . . The first day of ISCS science, the challenge of being on their own, and having a different teacher for each class.

Once they were used to being at the Middle School, they became closer to the older kids, wandered as time would allow before their next class, and prepared themselves for a great year.

Eighth

Victory was the name of the game for the eighth grade Pirates. Coached by John Phillips, they had a five and one record.

Beggs shut out the Pirates in the season opener, 20-0. Defeat didn't bring them down-they came back to shut out Cleveland 6-0, and Berryhill 8-0.

The Pirates overcame Cushing, 12-6 and Bristow, 14-8. To end a great season they defeated Pawhuska, 22-14.

"They are a great bunch of kids," said Coach Phillips. That's a good description of a mighty Pirate team.

▲ Eighth graders had a 5-1 record.

Seventh

Hard work and determination created a winning season for the seventh grade Pirates. Coached by Charlie Hill, they had a five and two season.

The first and second games set the victory pace for the year. Beggs and Cleveland were shut out 18-0 and 6-0. Defeat came to the Pirates when they lost to Hominy, 6-12 and Cushing, 0-6, but didn't stay long. The Pirates were victorious against Bristow, 20-6, and Pawnee, 26-6. The Pirates ended the year with a decisive victory over Pawhuska, 34-6.

◀ Charlie Hill coached the boys to a 5-2 season.

Sixth

Enthusiastic and hard-working describes the sixth grade Pirates coached by Dan Rathbun. Despite the long hours of practice, the team had a zero and three season.

The year opened with an 0-32 defeat by the Cleveland Tigers. The "B" team lost to Cleveland 0-26. A close struggle ended a disappointing season with Cleveland on top 0-8.

Although games weren't won, enthusiasm was never lost.

Two successful records

The football cleats were put away and the tennis shoes came out. It was basketball time again for the eighth grade boys. Coached by John Phillips, the team had a great 6-2 season.

The Kellyville Tournament was the setting for the first game. The Pirates were defeated by Mounds 29-35, but it didn't bring them down. They came back to win second place in the Cushing Tournament, beating Perkins 42-40 and losing to Cushing 38-43.

The tournaments were over and the regular season games were next on the schedule. The Pirates showed their basketball skills when they defeated Oilton 19-8. But the winning didn't stop there, the team breezed by Bristow 34-26 and Kellyville 34-30. They finished the season with two victories over Hominy 31-20 and Bristow 35-32.

Ten girls with lots of talents had a successful season of 10 and 1. Coach Ed McCann's eighth grade girls worked hard all year.

The season opened with a decisive win over Sand Springs Central, 40-19. At the Kellyville Tournament they lost to Glenpool in the finals 22-32 to give them second place trophy. They went on to the Cushing Tournament where the Pirates defeated Perkins 26-13 and Cushing 33-27. The victories gave them a first place trophy.

After placing in their tournaments the girls were determined to make the remaining games successful. They did just that; they finished up the season with a five-game winning streak. The Pirates defeated Kellyville 30-19, Oilton 38-20, Hominy 42-20 and Bristow twice 25-19 and 48-25.

7th grade exhibits pride

Strive to win! With spirit and pride, the seventh grade girls worked hard all season. Coached by Charlie Hill, they had a 3-3 season.

To start the season they defeated Cushing 25-15. The girls were defeated by Kellyville 21-23, but beat Perkins 28-18 and came back to defeat Kellyville 16-20. The girls showed their ability when they defeated Bristow 27-14. In the final game they were beaten by only one point by Bristow, 20-21.

Games were won and lost but their pride and spirit always showed through.

Win, Win, Win, Win! The seventh grade boys' basketball team did just that. Coached by Charlie Hill, the team had a winning season of 6-0.

The Pirates defeated Cushing 41-39 and Perkins 37-29 to gain first place in the Cushing Invitational Tournament. The boys started their regular season off right with two victories over Kellyville, 41-15 and 33-22. To finish up a great season the Pirates sailed by Bristow twice 30-12 and 33-19.

◄ The seventh grade boys won first place in the Cushing tournament.

Sixth grade gains unity

The sixth grade boys basketball team, coached by Dan Rathbun, had an outstanding year. Highlighting the season were the Keystone, Kellyville and Cleveland Tournaments.

The Pirates placed first at Keystone and Kellyville, and second at Cleveland. The young Pirates had a winning season of 11-3.

Competition was hard but the sixth grade girls were determined. Coached by Dan Rathbun, they won third place in the Cleveland Tournament. Despite their determination, the girls finished the season with a 3-6 record.

Spirit and pride was what made the Middle School come alive and the six MMS cheerleaders added to it. They did all the usual things cheerleaders should and more. They tried to get everyone involved by decorating lockers, making signs, skits, and selling pompons. They kept the students enthusiastic all through the year with pep assemblies and the spirit bus.

Carrying Snoopy lunch pails, learning cursive writing, new vowel sounds, multiplication, and division were all a part of the third grade.

Being in between the lower and higher levels of the grade school, the eight- and nine-year-olds have had new and more advanced subjects.

The third graders got the wiggles before a day was over. Trips to the water fountain, sharpening pencils, and bothering the teacher with little questions were a regular day for them. Little boys who took the girls' books and hid them went right along with it.

The small desks and chairs in groups of four, art work hung on the bulletin boards and walls, posters with stars for good work — this is the second grade.

Not entering anything new, the second graders expand further into language, health, social studies, art, and math. P.E. was a favorite of most students with the games and relay races. Visiting with a neighbor was also a favorite of some students. But all the students seemed to enjoy doing the class assignments and making things for the bulletin boards.

"I pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America and to the Republic . . ." with right hands placed over their hearts (some with the left) the six-year-olds began their morning. Next came the daily assignments of phonics, reading, and arithmetic.

The room was neatly decorated with word pronunciations for the different seasons and holidays.

The chattering of little voices either to a neighbor or just to themselves filled the room, but the teachers seldom raised their voices above a whisper. They worked patiently with the children and each one had a different method of teaching.

Coloring, playtime, and writing were things the first graders liked best about school. But the "go home" bell was the best thing that could happen to any six-year-old.

Oh! what a

A whole new world opened up to 75 four- and five-year-olds on August 17, 1978.

Their first discovery was getting along with each other.

Next came letters, numbers, and colors, and learning to spell their names made every kindergartner proud.

Special activities throughout the year included: "Sharetime," Halloween and Christmas parties, an Easter egg hunt and the annual elementary track meet.

Can you tell that we like having our picture taken?

I'm so confused!

Halloween is fun.

We are so studious.

Come on, hurry up, I am just as thirsty.

Paintings, drawings, leathercraft, pen & inks; are you interested?

Each year much work and talent is used to put together an art show that is outstanding. This year's show was no exception with the many fine pieces on display April 26-30. Several pieces were for sale and visitors thoroughly enjoyed seeing the work of many talented students.

Not more than five years ago, the promise of nuclear energy seemed irresistible. This year an accident occurred, however, that changed many people's minds about the promise of nuclear power. At Three Mile Island, a nuclear power plant near Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, a balky valve malfunctioned and set off an intricate chain of mechanical and human failures. Within minutes there was a serious leak of radioactive steam which many believed would present a threat to health and have other long-term effects from the low-level emissions. The surrounding area had to be evacuated until the radiation dissipated.

Rex Daugherty, from Eyewitness News, came to Mannford to cover an interesting but aggravating incident. The band had ordered T-shirts from a mobile T-shirt salesman. Money was paid for the merchandise and samples were shown but the T-shirts were never delivered. Later it was learned that the salesman had been caught and arrested for hot checks.

With the death of Pope Paul VI, on August 6, 1978, the need for a new pope arose. The pope chosen, John Paul I, had only a 34-day reign ended by a fatal heart attack. Again, the College of Cardinals met to select a new pope. Cardinal Karol Wojtyla of Poland was then elected as the 264th pontiff and chose the name John Paul II.

IN THE NEWS

Mark Claiborn is only one among many involved in specialized job training. In today's job market, this type of training seems to be a growing alternative to college. Many students have already proved this means of education as being a very helpful method to building a successful career.

When serious effort is put forth, favorable results usually come about, as witnessed by the F.F.A. department this year. In March, members brought home over 100 ribbons and trophies from the Creek County livestock show held in Bristow.
